Mercedes-Benz Genuine Part

Imitation parts: Saving a little now could cost the life of your car's engine.

- ▶ Only Mercedes-Benz genuine parts have been designed, manufactured, and tested with the same strict quality controls and high-precision standards that we use to build Mercedes-Benz automobiles.
- ▶ Imitation oil filters are often manufactured with low-quality and/or a reduced filter surface or materials that may allow metallic fragments to reach your engine—reducing efficiency and drastically shortening engine life.
- ▶ The Mercedes-Benz logo and Hologram are your guarantee of quality you can trust, and the performance you've come to expect.
- ▶ You've chosen the best, now stick with the best: genuine replacement parts from Mercedes-Benz.
